DEAN
SUSHMA SWARAJ INSTITUTE OF FOREIGN SERVICE
MINISTRY OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS

The first quarter of 2020 will always remain a landmark or milestone in the evolution of the Institute. The Foreign Service Institute (FSI) became the Sushma Swaraj Institute of Foreign Service (SSIFS) as a solemn and fitting tribute to former External Affairs Minister of India, late Smt. Sushma Swaraj, for her invaluable contribution to Indian diplomacy, ethos of public service and focus on training. The change to SSIFS was appropriately made on 14 February, 2020, which marked her birth anniversary. The Institute holds a debt of gratitude to the former leader and public figure for her vision of making SSIFS a state-of-the-art centre of excellence.

In this context, it may be recalled that the Institute was first established in 1986 as the Foreign Service Training Institute (FSTI). Thereafter, in 1993 its name was changed to Foreign Service Institute (FSI). We are now the Sushma Swaraj Institute of Foreign Service (SSIFS) – the premier institution in India for training of Indian and foreign diplomats and all Indian personnel posted in our Missions/Posts abroad.

The first quarter of 2020 started with a bang but had to end in a whimper! The Induction Training Programme of IFS OTs 2019 included Phase-I training focussed on international relations, strategic issues, diplomatic skills by way of interactive lectures, case studies, simulations, role-plays, etc. They also participated in various attachments as part of their hands-on training programme. On the foreign diplomats training front, the 2nd Disarmament Fellowship saw its successful institutionalisation as an annual programme on SSIFS calendar. In the regional context, the first Special Course for BIMSTEC diplomats was organised. Country-specific training courses for Iraqi and Syrian diplomats were successfully completed. Towards the end of the quarter, i.e. from March 2020, SSIFS had to curtail activities and postpone programmes due to Covid-19. However, with a view to leveraging the challenge into an opportunity, SSIFS strengthened its digital outreach through IFS OTs participation in Gujarat Forensic Sciences University (GFSU)'s online cyber security course and other online activities. Similarly, part of the Section Officers and Private Secretaries promotion-related training programme was implemented remotely using digital technology. While we continue to leverage other online options, Team SSIFS eagerly looks forward to the post-Covid-19 period to resume regular work and revert to our 'sage on stage' with 'guide on side' methodology for full impact and effectiveness.

Videsh Sewa wishes all the SSIFS alumni and readers good health and safe stay.
